Democratic Committee Meeting.

At a meeting of the Democratic committee of Madison county held at the court house in Richmond, Ky., on Monday, May 1st, 1899, it was ordered that a mass convention be held in each voting precinct in Madison county on Saturday, June 1st, 1899, at 2 o'clock p. m. to select delegates to the Democratic convention to be held at the next general assembly of the State of Kentucky.

The basis of representation in each voting precinct shall be one delegate for each fifty votes cast in the respective precincts for the Democratic electoral ticket for President in 1896, and one vote for each fraction of twenty-five votes more cast at said election.

The members of Madison county Democratic committee residing in each voting precinct shall call the precinct convention to order and preside while the convention is in session and certify the result to the county convention to be held on the 1st of July.

All known Democrats and others who support the Democratic electoral ticket for President in 1896, and who pledge themselves to support the nominees of the county Democratic convention, shall be entitled to participate in the convention. J. B. CHENAULT, CH. Sec. WILLIAM JETT, Sec.

It would hardly be expected at the North that a child of the famous abolitionist, General Cassius M. Clay, our distinguished and venerable friend and fellow citizen, would oppose any measure looking to the equality of the negro and the white. But, in the case of the late General Clay, the fact is significant of the lofty intelligence of the Southern-born lady, that when the National American Woman's Suffrage Association, at Detroit last week, a colored woman from Michigan presented a resolution demanding that colored women in the South be permitted to vote in the same manner as the white women, Miss Laura Clay, of Kentucky, warmly attacked the resolution as an insult to Southern white women. After a warm debate the resolution was thrown out as tending to create factional feeling.

We all know Miss Clay to be, in intelligence, culture, patriotism and force of character, the equal of any woman who set her foot in the North. Her service for her sex in one campaign came near winning for woman the ballot—that the intelligent and patriotic woman of Commonwealth might have their rights and a choice in their rulers and lawmakers. But, in other, thickly populated negro States, she learned lessons that she is evidently not forgotten, and that the South she so dearly loved, she will not blush for the part she took in supporting them from the added burden which this Michigan negro woman would place upon them.

Judge Sullivan's Death.

At 10:30 o'clock on Wednesday last, Hon. Patrick Henry Sullivan, Judge of the county court of Madison, breathed his last at Hendersonville, N. C., and the news was received here with profound sorrow, for while his condition was generally known to be serious there was little apprehension of his death. For almost a year he had wavered in health, in December suffering a collapse which had thrown him into the hands of friends promotorily of the end, though even they shrank from the thought that death would come to Judge Sullivan so soon.

About two weeks ago it was decided that the climate about Asheville would be conducive to his recovery, and thither he went, accompanied by his wife, little daughter, and his brother, Hon. Jerry A. Sullivan, of the Kentucky bar. Little remains to be told of this. The echo of the faraway land and the soft breeze from the south before the awful news flashed to the waiting sister that "Pat is dead." We saw this sister repress the tears and grief that rent her heart when she pressed her lips to the cheek of her brother, and then, with a gasp, she turned upon his face the ghastly pallor of a dead man. The news of his death was a great shock to the community, and it was a grief that will never be forgotten. He was a man of noble character, and his death was a great loss to the community.

We are authorized to announce H. WILLIAMS, a candidate for the Legislature, subject to the action of the Democratic Party.

Two Insurance Policies Found.

Postmaster Willis has taken a new lease on life now that he has found two $2,500 insurance policies on his life which have been lost for two years. While cleaning out some old records that were transferred from the old to the new office, Mr. Willis on Saturday ran across these policies which he happened to find in a box kept in the Richmond National Bank. As one is a paid-up policy and the other is a term policy, Mr. Willis is now looking for the owner of the policies. He is willing to pay the full amount of the policies to the owner, and he is willing to pay the full amount of the policies to the owner.

CURE OF THE FEET.

What Mrs. Jennings Miller Has Done For Her Suffering Sisters.

The wave of common-sense "dress reform," and especially "shoe reform," is gathering force as it works its way from the Atlantic to the Pacific. When asked what led to the manufacture of the celebrated "Jennings Miller" shoe this a word of comfort and beauty replied, "A crying demand from women all over the country. From every corner I have addressed, and they have numbered thousands in every city of the country. From every audience question in tones of distress, 'What shall we wear upon our feet to be comfortable and look well?' I have answered that question in the shoe which bears my name. It is my own idea of a strictly hygienic, anatomical shoe, and gives the greatest possible amount of comfort, style and durability ever secured from a shoe. I do not think I shall ever have greater satisfaction in life than the thought that it has been my privilege to solve the problem of foot comfort for my sisters throughout the length and breadth of the land."

The Jennings Miller hygienic shoe are confined to Douglas, Bright & Co., 307 West Main street, this city.
